

I am Cursed

Weapon (Firearm), uncommon (requires attunement)

You have a +1 bonus to attack and damage rolls made with this weapon.

Creatures reduced to 0 hit points by this weapon, regardless of their physiology, immediately explode into crimson blood, killing them and dealing 1d4 psychic damage to all creatures within 10ft of them. None of their original corpse is left behind.

Curse. You are unwilling to part ways with this firearm. If the firearm is 10 or more feet away from you, it immediately reappears at your feet.

If you don't shoot yourself with this firearm at least once per day, you die at dawn. You don't immediately know this, but you feel as though you are going to die unless you don't go through with it.

Attunement to this item cannot be broken unless you are targetted by the Remove Curse spell or similar magic.
